PREFATORY NOTE.

This supplementary collection of Chinese books has been gathered together since the year 1898.

In 1908, when a large number of valuable works came into the market, a fund was raised by private subscription, the subscribers being: —

The Master of Emmanuel
The Provost of King's
Professor Sir Clifford Allbutt, K.C.B.
Professor A. A. Bevan

University Library
Lady Wade

With this fund, (1) a great many gaps in the Chinese Library were filled up, and (2) some rare works were acquired.

Under the first of these heads may be mentioned Y 1^a, which is an anthology, in 401 volumes, of the prose masterpieces produced under the T'ang dynasty (A.D. 618—906), and is a companion to D 246, already on the shelves, a similar anthology of the poetical masterpieces of the same period.

Under the second head will be found D 75^a, which contains, in 24 volumes, the complete writings of the famous poet, Tu Fu (A.D. 712—770). Hitherto, the oldest printed book in the University Library has been C 114, an illustrated account of all foreign nations known to the Chinese, which dates back to the last quarter of the 14th century. The work here under notice dates back to the year A.D. 1204.

Some important donations have been made, of which two call for particular mention.

A large number of works, marked in this Catalogue with a dagger, were presented by Dr F. Sanger, of St John's College; and several of these are of peculiar interest as specially representing the literary activity of the province of Fuhkien, in which Dr Sanger happened to be stationed.

Those works which are marked with an asterisk were presented by Mr L. C. Taylor, of Clare College. The large majority of these form new acquisitions, the remainder being other editions of works already secured.

Over one thousand three hundred volumes have thus been added to the Library.

HERBERT A. GILES.
